The Heidelberg Project is a Detroit-based community organization designed to improve lives and neighborhoods through art. We envision neighborhood residents using art to come together to rebuild the structure and fabric of under-resourced communities and to create a way of living that is economically viable, enriches lives, and welcomes all people. For more information, please contact Michelle Figurski, Executive Assistant, at (313) 974-6894, write to the above address, or e-mail information@heidelberg.org.
